F o r e w o r d

In future years as we mentally retrace our steps through our high school days, may this Fifteenth Edition of the "REFLECTOR" serve as a guide for reflecting upon those cherished hours spent this year and as a reminder of what we have learned and practiced here at Broadway. It is with these thoughts that the editorial staff presents "The 1950 Reflector".

Dedication

MRS. PAULINE A. FAHRNEY

School days are best remembered by those things that are pleasant and those people who have helped to make them so. Ours have been made so by one whose encouragement, patience, advice and sympathetic understanding will forever endear her to those of us whose high school days she has made more pleasant and profitable.

Now, as our paths separate we pay tribute to an excellent teacher and friend, and may the memories of her kindness guide us on to greater goals in the future.

With sincere hearts we dedicate this, The Fifteenth Volume of the "REFLECTOR" to Mrs. Fahrney.

UNDER HIS GUIDANCE

MR. J. FRANK HILLYARD
Principal

A Letter To Our Principal

To the man, who has given twenty-four years of his life to the cause of young people in public education, all but one of them at Broadway, and the last eleven in his present capacity, we are grateful for your constant patience and considerateness in giving us encouragement and in helping us to develop our personalities. We have come through your office door with numerous and varied problems but you have always welcomed us and given us courage and inspiration.

What you have been to each of us as young people can best be expressed by these lines:

"Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Foot prints in the sands of time."

Discarded Treasures

We, the Seniors of the class of 1950, being reasonably sound in mind and knowing that it is appointed for each of us to depart from this place, do make and publish this our last will and testament.

To the members of the faculty we leave our sincere appreciation for all the patience and help given us during our high school days.

To Mr. Jameson, we leave our profound gratitude for his untiring, untold, unceasing, trustworthy labor and to Mrs. Crist, Mrs. Long, Mrs. Mason, and Miss Crist we bequeath the memories of our laughter and our "serious discussions" at the lunch tables.

To the Junior Class, we leave the hope that their Senior year will be as memorable and successful as ours.

I, Joy Andes, will to Irene Evans my dimples, "spit curl", and height.

I, Ray Billhimer, bequeath to Eddie Keller my ability to type and get along with others.

I, Dolly Ann Armentrout, will to any Junior who will enjoy it as much as I do, my love for roller skating and going on basketball trips.

To Bill Neff, I, Charles Blosser, being of sound mind and body (I hope) bequeath my part-time position as fourth grade teacher.

I, Dorothy June Biller, bequeath to Mary Davis Kline my seat in the band, providing she will practice regularly and attend rehearsals.

I, Howard Cline, will to Alvin Strickler my ability to be present at school every day.

To Hoyt Riddle, I, James Clutteur, bequeath my unkept records in agriculture class.

I, Norma Dove, will the front seat in Mr. Hillyard's Civic class to Norma Caplinger, providing she will learn as much there as I have.

I, Martha Drum, will to Darlene Thomas, my long blonde hair and my desk in the Senior room.

I, Jay Crider, bequeath to Mary Jane Turner my desire for Wrigley's chewing gum.

To Nancy May, I, Dorothy Ann Early, bequeath my gift of gab, (although I am sure she won't need it) and to every Junior my love for music.

I, Justin Halterman, bequeath my good attention in class to Bobby Rhodes.

I, Mary Kathryn Fulk, will to Evelyn Derrow my ability to provoke Miss Mason by almost getting my neck broken in physical education before each basketball game.

To Lawrence Roller, I, Richard Hottinger, will my quiet manner, wit, and my ability to understand chemistry.

I, Wanda Good, will to Mildred Renalds my ability to type; especially for the REFLECTOR.

To Sonny Derrow, I, Johnny Huffman, bequeath my position as mimeographer of the "Communi-K."

I, Wanda Hinkle, bequeath to Alice Higgs my seat in the Senior room in hopes that her memories from that seat will be as dear as mine.

I, Betty Sue Hoover, will my position as cheerleader to Patsy Smucker, providing she doesn't do everything right.

I, Gerald Orebaugh, will to Richard Kline my position as guard on the basketball team.

To Jean May, I, Joyce Lantz, will my seat in shorthand class and the hard work I had to do there.

I, Jimmie Rhodes, will to J. D. Lantz, Jr. my ability to get along with boys and girls.

I, Flo Long, will to Xie Cook my friendliness and my seat in the fourth row in the Senior room.

I, Betty McWilliams, will to Clara Jo Sheetz my position as guard on the basketball team, provided she does as good a job as I did.

To Gene Driver, I, Edwin Turner, do bequeath my height and my ability to get along in English class.

I, Idella Mongold, bequeath to Pauline Smith my love for staying home at nights.

To Lelia May, I, Alva Phillips, bequeath my desk beside Mr. Whitmore's, providing she doesn't talk to him any more than I have.

I, Anna Lucy Phillips, will to Lois Bare my athletic ability and my pleasant personality.

I, Glenn Will, leave to John Wagner my desk just inside the Senior room with hopes that he will have patience with all the things that are placed thereon.

I, Alma Lee Pullins, bequeath to Florence Harpine my giggles, providing she doesn't overdo it.

To Donnie Turner, I, Louise Roller, will my horn-rimmed glasses and the time I spent using them for study.

I, Russell Wittig, Jr., will my ability to get along in typing to Bevelyn Fulk.

I, Janalee Sheetz, bequeath to Margie Cline my position in the Glee Club with hopes that she will pay as much attention as I have.

I, Ruby Showalter, bequeath to Wilda Getz my two library periods, hoping she will use them to the best advantage.

To Genevieve Runion, I, Louise Strickler, will my quietness in all my classes.

I, Nancy Trumbo, will to Mary Catherine Dellinger my position in the band, providing she doesn't put lip-stick on the music.

I, Eleanor Williams, will to Janice Siever my love for singing in hopes that she will enjoy it as much as I have.

Reflections Upon The Future

It was one of those rare days in the fall of 1960 with our week's vacation ahead of us, that we stood upon the grounds of B. H. S. We had come to Broadway with the intention of contacting as many of our former classmates as possible.

Upon entering the grade school we were both surprised and delighted to see Flo Long, who was now holding down the position of first grade teacher, as well as forty or more pupils. Strolling across the school yard, we decide to see if the high school routine had changed in the last ten years.

Our first stop was an English class and who should be the instructor but Kasey Fulk looking trim in her horn-rimmed glasses and that ever prevalent knot of hair at the nape of her neck? After much chit-chat about our schoolchums we left the building only to be deafened by a big loud voice calling out "1-2-3-4, get in step, you!". Turning, we were amazed to see Dolly Ann Armentrout vigorously putting her physical ed. class through the basic training in marching. Oh, gee! Same old stuff; and after ten years.

After more comparing of notes we decided to leave Broadway and go into the surrounding communities to try to round up some of the ole' gang. Between Broadway and Edom we found we were in need of gasoline, so seeing a station near-by, we pulled in. A most impressive looking young man came to the window and said, "Fill 'er up, ladies?" Well, were we speechless? It was none other than Justin Halterman. Well, how glad we were to see him! We naturally inquired about all our classmates and he told us that Glenn Will is now a prominent weather forecaster and writes the forecasts for the radio and local newspaper. Then Justin went into his station and brought out the old faithful Daily-News and there on the front page were flashy pictures of Edwin Turner and Ray Billhimer. Of course, you could hardly see who they were for the display of prize-winning cattle which (the article went on to relate) were raised on their huge farms in the valley. Justin also informed us that Russell Wittig, Jr. was not "Just Sittin' and A-Rockin'" after making a small fortune on his poultry ranch just a little distance ahead of us. We talked much longer than we realized, and we really had to rush if we were to check into our rooms at the Kavanaugh in the city of Harrisonburg. After agreeing to have a get-together in the near future, we hurried on to Harrisonburg.

When we went down to the Coffee Shop for dinner, who should take our orders but Thella Smith. She was really doing O. K. as manager of the place. The Coffee Shop, of course, had been remodeled and now featured an orchestra with crooner Johnny Huitman soloist and a floor show headed by the great acrobat, Jimmy Rhodes. Yep', 'twas really a most enjoyable evening.

Up bright and early next morning, we were driving along and saw a sign "Crider's Tourist Court". We thought, "Could it be? Well, let's stop and see." We did stop and the proprietor was none other than Jay Crider. Well, here went another lengthy visit. He informed us that we could find Louise Roller, Dorothy Ann Early and Louise Strickler among the quiet din of the new and larger Rockingham Memorial Hospital. It seemed that they certainly chose the right profession as all three were now head nurses, no less. They have an excellent laboratory technician who, Jay told us, was Wanda Good, and really good, too.

After more reviving of memories, we left Jay and journeyed on until we heard a queer flip-flop! "Aha! A flat tire! Well, at least there's a house here," so we were able to call a garageman. We knocked on the door and who do you suppose answered our knock!! Mrs. John Neuding, the former Martha Drum. Shortly we placed our call and to our amazement, Dorothy June Biller answered at the switchboard. We later learned she was chief operator. While waiting for the tire to be fixed, we were informed over a cup of coffee that Janalee Sheetz, Idella Mongold, Ruby Showalter, and Betty McWilliams were married and beginning their careers as house-wives.

Upon leaving the house we heard off in the distance an old, almost forgotten tune being whistled—What was that song—"Donkey Caravan"?—Oh, no, "Mule Train", of course! Those fellows whistling it—gee, they looked familiar, but those uniforms—service men—and who were they? You guessed it. None other than—James Clutteur, Richard Hottinger and Howard Cline headed toward Gerald Orebaugh's barbershop.

Well—more exchange of memories and we were off again. We turned on the radio to be greeted by an announcer very pleasantly informing us that we were about to hear a great clarinet group which was sweeping the country by storm. Who were the big wheels in the group but Betty Sue Hoover leading the clarinet section and Nancy Trumbo on the piano! Boy, did our class get around.

We decided we would do a little visiting around Timberville to see how all the Co-op's were thriving. And just as we were nearing that town, we noticed a peculiar-looking little place out on the bluff. We peeped in the window and saw the Albert Einstein of today, Charles Blosser, very deeply engrossed in his research work on nuclear and atomic energy. We didn't dare bother the great thinker so we very quietly slid into the car and were once again on our way.

At our next stop—The Shen-Valley Meat Packers had now increased in size to cover all the available land near it. Here we found Anna Lucy Phillips as the receptionist and Joyce Lantz who was very busy trying to take the figures out of all the new fangled machines as they added, divided, multiplied and subtracted for her—Now what was the use of all that laboring in geometry, algebra, and math back in high school? We learned from these girls that Alva Phillips and Joy Andes were very busy checking invoices for wingless poultry which now left every hour on the hour, by rocket ship for New York and points beyond. These girls also told us that Wanda Hinkle and Alma Lee Pullins were working in the office as secretaries and relieving Alva and Joy when the rockets started coming in and going out too fast. Well—as much as we hated to have it happen, all good things must end, so we, Norma Dove and Eleanor Williams, had to return to our respective vocations, namely, airline hostess on the Eastern Airlines and producer and director of the latest hit on Broadway—N. Y.—that is!!!

'39 History '50

It is a cool morning in early June as we file through the door, up the steps and into the familiar senior room. This is the time of the year we have waited for, and the day we have long dreamed about. In September of last year a group of thirty-seven students attained the name and now the highest position of seniors of the class of 1950.

Each of us is thinking of the future and reminiscing in the past. Perhaps we are contemplating how difficult it will be to leave our beloved classmates and our high school. But, yet we are thinking what a wonderful future we have ahead at college, on a farm, or building that little dream house.

Then our thoughts wander back to almost eleven years ago when nine of the present seniors invaded the first grade. They were: Betty Sue Hoover, Glenn Will, Wanda Hinkle, Gerald Orebaugh, Mary Kathryn Fulk, Jay Crider, Dorothy Ann Early, Eleanor Williams and Alva Phillips, all proud and happy little youngsters. We can imagine how Mr. Hillyard, our principal, also looks back to remember that he began his first year of principalling at B. H. S. that same year.

The way the time flew through the elementary years probably even surprised us. We remember that Anna Lucy Phillips, Ruby Showalter, Johnnie Huffman, Justin Halterman, and Idella Mongold joined our class during the course of the grades.

Then suddenly we found ourselves getting ready for the freshman year of high school and most important we were almost grown up.

The next fall as the curtain rose on our high school life we found ourselves getting adjusted to routines very different from anything we had ever known. During our freshman year different members of our class participated in the various activities offered, such as basketball, different clubs, and representatives on the Communi-K and REFLECTOR staffs. Many times we would recall old friends that had left the class and welcome the new students who were mounting the stairs with the aim of reaching the top also. Among those we welcomed in that year were: Dolly Armentrout, Charles Blosser, Betty McWilliams, all from Lacey Springs,—Norma Dove from Pennsylvania—Joyce Lantz, Nancy Trumbo, Russell Wittig, Jr. from Coates Store,—Alma Lee Pullins, Wanda Good, Janalee Sheetz, Louise Roller, Louise Strickler, from Tenth Legion,—Joy Andes from New Market,—and Dorothy June Biller from Timberville. The year of '46-'47 was spent very quietly but the next year, being sophomores, we began to be recognized by the upper classmen as a vital part of Broadway High School. We must not fail to mention the new members of our class joining us as sophomores. They were Ray Billhimer and James Clutteur.

Probably the first big event in our high school life was the junior class play, "The Hoosier Schoolmaster." Then to climax the junior year we were host to the seniors of '49 for a banquet. Members joining the class that year were: Thella Smith and Richard Hottinger from Bergton, Howard Kline from Timberville, Edwin Turner, and Jimmy Rhodes.

The past school year, our senior year, will probably always be treasured as the happiest and most exciting year of our lives. The first memorable event that year was the joyous trip to Charlottesville for the G. W. University vs. University of Va. football game. Our chaperones were: Miss Trumbo, Mr. Hillyard, and Mr. Whitmore.

In the early part of January we assumed the responsibility for the publication of our annual, and also the Communi-K Staff was still working hard on publishing our school events in a more and more interesting way.

During the latter part of February and the earlier days of March we worked together as a team preparing our senior play, "Take Your Medicine" that was given on March 10, Miss May and Miss Trumbo directing.

In April also we received a most treasured possession, our class rings.

Then came Senior Day, the day when we were officially recognized as seniors. We were all anxious for the program to be enjoyed by everyone.

We cannot forget the fun we had planning the trip to Washington, D. C., which we were able to take in the first part of May.

We must not forget that two new members joined our class this year. They were Martha Drum from Ohio and Flo Long.

Now as the bell rings, our minds flash back to the present and we realize that today the routine of high school life will be ended for us; for today is the day of graduation.

Only yesterday, June 4th we became dignified long enough to be inspired by a fine message to carry with us through life at the "Sermon to Seniors."

Tonight we will come back to Broadway High School for the last time as just plain seniors. Tonight we will receive our diplomas and become the graduates of 1950.

Earning to live
Living to serve

The Broadway Chapter had thirty-seven members this year. Some of our activities were:

- Held picnic with F. H. A.
- Held Father-Son banquet with Timberville Chapter
- Took part in following contests: crop judging, dairy, poultry, Degree Team, and public speaking.
- All of these contests were sponsored by the Rockingham Federation

Last summer seven members of our Chapter, along with other Rockingham F. F. A. boys, spent four days in Washington. The boys visited many buildings in the Capitol. They spent one day at the Beltsville Experiment Station.

In October two members attended the Atlantic Rural Exposition in Richmond.

Sometimes it is the nature of a craft to create an unbreakable tie between itself and the worker in that field, a heart attachment equal to lifetime devotion. One familiar example is PRINTING. Once editor, once compositor, or pressman catches the spirit of the shop, the spell is seldom broken. Like the odor of a camp fire, or a whiff of salt air, the beloved tang of printer's ink, symbolical of a great profession, gets into your heart and soul. School Annuals, Magazines, Newspapers and Special Printing, all smack of it. It is an invisible link that binds all intelligence together. It is the stimulus for creation in business or romance. This craftsmanship, this devotion to service and alertness to business needs, has nourished and developed an enormous industrial vitality, and whichever way the course of the future runs, the printer will always find himself able to adapt his helpfulness to new opportunity.
